MISS FARMER A LIFE MEMBER

Annual Meeting of Green Acre Fel- lowship Results in Clash Between the Two Factions

The annual meeting of the Green Acre Fellowship was held at 131st on Monday and for a time there was a lively passage of words between Judge Aaron B. Cole, representing the trustees, and Frank B. Sanborn of Concord, Mass., the latter representing the Antis.

The trouble arose when Mr. Sanborn appeared on the scene and asked to have a voice in the meeting, claiming to have credentials from Miss Farmer. He was asked by Judge Cole to produce his credentials but on the advice of counsel, he refused to do so. After a vote had been taken which showed the so-called Balaist faction to have 49 to their opponents 6, Mr. Sanborn and several of the Antis left the meeting.

Alfred D. Lunt of Boston, chairman of the board of trustees, presided and the reports of the secretary and treasurer were read. The recent decree of the Maine court was read.

A resolution was passed to be sent to President Woodrow Wilson urging him to give his best efforts for international peace.

The Fellowship also adopted resolutions of condolence to Miss Farmer and Miss Celia Richmond of Adams, Mass., a lifelong friend of Miss Farmer and for a number of years secretary of the Fellowship.

Announcement was also made that

KEEGAN HAS A BAD RECORD

Man Under Arrest Here Is Wanted in Lynn and Other Places.

The Lynn police forwarded here today a record and photograph of Gerald Keegan, alias Frank Manning, who was recently arrested in this city for sneak thieving in a lodging house on State street. Keegan is wanted by the police of Lynn and other places for the same kind of a job that he did here and for which he is now confined to the county jail waiting for the October term of superior court. He makes a business of false key work and before the police got him here he had stolen several suits of clothes, a gold watch and two bicycles. He was arrested just as he was getting ready to leave the city. The Massachusetts officers will place a warrant in the hands of the local authorities for his arrest as soon as this state is through with him.

POLICE GET MAN FOR EPPING ROBBERY

Dentist's Office Entered There on Monday Afternoon.

Henry Ford, arrested by Officers Kelly and Philbrick on Monday night, is wanted by the police of Epping in connection with the robbery of a dentist's office in that town on Monday. Ford admits that he was in on the job but says he was on the outside while the office was being ransacked by another man. Several articles and letters in his clothing went to show that he had previously been in trouble in Boston and the local officers are trying to find out more about him.

Thought in Diplomatic Circles that Italy Will Be Involved

Experts Declare German Infantry Formation is Obsolete and Predict Heavy Slaughter Unless Change is Made.—British Capture Treasure Ship

(Special to The Herald)
London, Aug. 11.—That both Japan and Italy will be involved in the martial conflict that has astounded the civilized world is the belief in diplomatic circles today. News that Italy has demanded of Austria an explanation of its fleet's action at Antivari was followed by a dispatch from Tokio that Japan would probably declare war against Germany within twenty-four hours.

Brussels, via London, Aug. 11.—The lull in the fighting around Liege since Saturday appears to be the lull before the storm. There is little doubt that an engagement on a scale not yet witnessed in this war is imminent.

The people of Brussels are extraordinarily watchful against spies. There is universal belief that proofs exist of an organized system of espionage, in which German business men of the highest standing are involved.

The governor of Antwerp has issued a proclamation warning all German and Austrian residents to present themselves to the police; refusal to do so will put them in danger of being shot as spies.

German soldiers who became separated from their regiments lost their way and are falling into the hands of the Belgians. For the most part these are cavalymen, and they surrender without striking a blow. Apparently they are glad to be fed and lodged by their captors. Two hundred Germans were captured in this way last night.

The Germans have destroyed the bridges and railways around Tongres.

London, Aug. 11.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, who witnessed much of the fighting around Liege, says that the German artillery was excellent, but expresses surprise at the infantry in fighting in close order. Battalion after battalion was thrown into the field in close formation, but, he adds, the estimate of 25,000 losses was an exaggeration.

Most of the captured Germans were from 18 to 24 years of age. Their grey uniforms were stripped of all insignia and their helmets were covered with grey cloth.

The civilians of the town, says the correspondent, showed the greatest courage under bombardment and in the face of alarms brought in by frightened refugees. The German shells did a little damage to the city in the angle between the rivers Ourthe and Meuse. The factories and coal mine were in operation throughout the fighting.

The correspondent, writing on Sunday, predicted that the Germans could not take the forts without enormous sacrifices, which would cripple their right wing. He expressed the opinion that the German plan of sweeping down the Meuse to Sedan must be abandoned because it has already been so long delayed. He said that the French have massed five army corps in the German path.

The Germans will bring their heavy artillery against the forts, but these will stand much bombardment. In the opinion of the correspondent the Germans have decided to advance along the south side of the Meuse, leaving Liege.

FIRST BATTLE ON FRENCH SOIL

(Special to The Herald)
Paris, Aug. 11.—The German forces that invaded France near Epinal have been defeated and forced to retreat. German cavalry, supported by artillery, came in conflict at Spitz-Court in the department of Meuse with the French defenders and were routed after a sharp battle. This was the first battle on French soil.

HEAVY FIRING IN VICINITY OF LIEGE

(Special to The Herald)
London, Aug. 11.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph telephones a message from Maastricht that there has been heavy firing along the line between Liege and Tongres. The Germans are placing heavy guns before Liege and Namur.

FIGHTING AT LIEGE IS RESUMED

(Special to The Herald)
Brussels, Aug. 11.—Desperate fighting at Liege was resumed this morning when the German forces attempted to smash the Belgian defenses and capture the forts. The Belgian war reports that at 4 a.m. the enemy began a heavy bombardment.

GERMAN LOSSES ARE HEAVY

(Special to The Herald)
Brussels, Aug. 11.—The German losses at Liege as announced today were 31,700. Of this number 2000 were killed, 20,000 wounded and 8700 taken prisoners.

COST OF LIVING IS ADVANCING

(Special to The Herald)
New York, Aug. 11.—America today placed an unparalleled advance on bond stocks and other commodities as a result of the European war. Prices on many necessary articles have already jumped from 10 to 100 per cent and it is predicted that these boosts will be doubled and trebled within the next

PRESENTS A CUP FOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Mr. Hovey B. Slayton of Manchester, has presented a cup to be played for at the New Hampshire Golf championship at Abenaki Rye Beach, on Sept. 11 and 12.

Mrs. Frank W. Rollins has presented the association with two cups, the first went several years and was finally won by Henry Struchlin of Portsmouth, the next was captured by Jesse Gilford the present state champion, and he won it for the third time last year, and it became his property.

The Slayton Cup will carry with it the state championship and as with the Rollins Cup it will have to be won by a player three times to become his personal property.

Mr. Slayton is a member of the Intervale Country Club of Manchester and he has been very interested in golf for some years.

The state championship this year will have a large entry and the indications are for a much better field. For years the Portsmouth Country Club have won the state team championship, but this year they will have to play fine golf to keep their record. Manchester has greatly improved and Concord as well as the Abenaki at Rye Beach, will have a strong team in the running.

Jesse Gilford the present state champion is playing a much better game than last year and he is naturally picked for a winner, although he will not have to be off his game to lose to several in the state.

POLICE NEWS.

Harry Ford was arrested on Deer street Monday evening, and held at the station marked suspicious. There was a break at Phipps on Monday and a man was followed to the depot where he jumped a freight coming this way. Ford fits the description and he will be held for the Epping officers.

Thomas Durnard, fell or jumped from a freight train in the railroad yard on Monday evening and he was cut about the face and head. He was brought to the police station where Dr. Johnston sewed up a cut on his head, and patched up his face, which was badly scraped.

There were eight drunks on the police station on Monday evening. They were mostly strangers who had strayed in and had been too strenuous in their consumption of booze.

BREAKS GATES IN WELLAND CANAL

Steamer Winsor Carries Away All Four Gates of a Lock.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 10.—The steamer Winsor of the Montreal Transportation Company carried away all four gates of Lock No. 12 on the Welland Canal late yesterday. Hon. Daniel W. Badger, Congressman from this district and former Mayor of this city, on Monday filed his papers as a candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket in the Primaries.

Mr. Mayor Badger has been mentioned right along as a possible candidate but to his friends he announced that he had not made up his mind. The Manchester Mirror, in speaking of the Democratic candidate stated that it was rumored that Congressman Badger would withdraw from the race and that Hon. D. W. Badger of Portsmouth would be a candidate.

GOLD BACK IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 10.—The treasure from the German liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie arrived at the Grand Central station this morning from Bar Harbor Me., on a special train. It consisted of $10,000,000 in gold coins in kegs and $2,400,000 in silver bars, and it was locked in four steel express cars and guarded by police, bank messengers and detectives.

The gold and silver were shipped abroad about two weeks ago, and about the time the ship was thought half way to the other side she dashed into Bar Harbor, unharmed, to escape capture by hostile warships.

Before being put aboard the special train yesterday at Bar Harbor the treasure was transported across Frenchman's Bay to the Malco Central R. R. Terminal by the revenue cutter Androsogogh. An armed guard of Marines assisted in guarding it while the 40 tons of wealth was being transferred.

The money now goes to the Sub-treasury to be held for New York bankers by whom it was to have been sent to Paris and London.

ONE OF OUR BUSY NAVIES

More than ever it is apparent today that the revenue cutter service is of almost inestimable value to this nation. Today forty-three armed cutters, tugs and launches, manned by 1728 officers and enlisted men, are scouring the seas as Uncle Sam's "watch-dogs of the sea." One may be going to sea to blow up a derelict that has become dangerous to navigation; another searching a ship for smuggling goods or examining her sailing papers while a third may be on the way to suppress mutiny or piracy, or to enforce neutrality laws of American ports. They protect the seal fisheries of Alaska, and patrol the coast in search of vessels in distress during the winter months. Under a recent regulation they patrol the transatlantic lane of travel to warn all vessels of any nation of the danger of floating icebergs, such as the one that sank the Titanic. They enforce quarantine regulations; they patrol the coasts of four southern states which were suffering under an epidemic of yellow fever in 1906. They penetrate to the Arctic regions to bring succor to stranded whaling ships. It was in 1857-8 that a cutter raced through a thousand miles of ice packs to rescue whalers frozen in at Point Barrow before they starved to death.

CHUM BOB'S SPORTING TALK

New York, Aug. 10.—There are apt to be doings in the boxing world within a few weeks. Much of course, depends upon the interest that the sporting public will show in such events, with so many other matters of importance to be considered. It is hard to think that the present lull in boxing will last long with Ritchie and Gunboat Smith in town and Jimmy Coffey, the "Dublin Giant," and Harry Stone, the local welterweight in calling distance.

Women swimmers are not to be permitted to take part in Amateur Athletic Union events where men are competing. This is a point that has been finally settled by Secretary Jim Sullivan of New York, who has refused to sanction such a meet in Indianapolis. Women were at one time hopeful of getting into the games at Baltimore next month.

To own a horse like King Coughman would soon make its owner rich, as Dick Mubon will attest. This thoroughbred has started twice this year, each time landing the July prize of $5,000. Recently at Detroit King Coughman took the Chamber of Commerce Stake in straight heats in 2:16 class.

Those Chicago Cubs are more than a little bit exasperating. They won when the Giants win, lose when the Giants lose and when the Giants do not play they are also idle. All of which is a mighty poor method of cutting down New York's lead.

Edward Konelchey vows that somebody fastened a curse on him when he joined the Pittsburgh team. Konelchey is surprised whenever he hits a ball safe these days. He has been dropped to sixth place in the batting order.

Otto Frolitzheim, the noted German tennis player, who is now visiting the United States, to play in the international matches for the Davis Cup, is a patriot, but he does not want to fight. He thinks that he is doing a great deal for the Fatherland when he gives up his law practice and takes the trip to the United States for the sake of upholding Germany's reputation on the tennis court.

Miss Schwartz, rated as the best long distance road walker in the United States, is just now the most promising candidate that Uncle Sam has for the proposed 100 kilometre (62 1/2 miles) walk that will be contested at Berlin two years hence. Schwartz can outfoot any walker that we have in America for fifty miles, his main assets as a walker are his strength and endurance under punishment that simply cannot be excelled.

It is no longer a secret that there is a clique on the Naps that is working against the better interests of Birmingham and the club, for otherwise it is hardly possible that the Naps could be down in the cellar hopelessly lost. And as Birmingham has signed a three-year contract to manage the Naps, he intends to remain and see some of the others who were after his job go instead.

BOYS TAUGHT A LESSON

Several boys from the Creek district were in police court on Monday before Judge Torrey, charged with shooting craps. They were each fined $5 each and a second offense will mean a much heavier sentence.

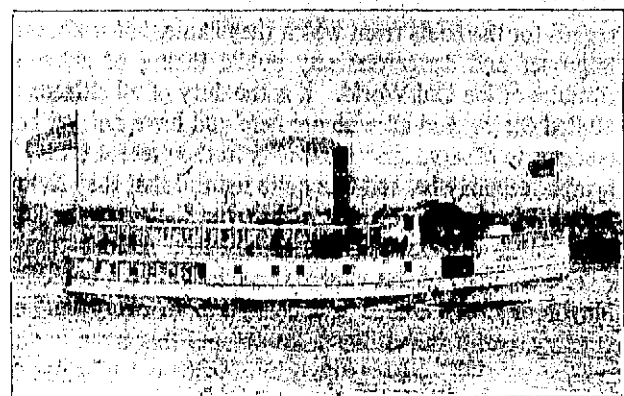

CANAL TREATY GOES TO SENATE

Washington, Aug. 10.—President Wilson has formally transmitted to the Senate and Nicaraguan treaty to acquire perpetual canal rights and naval stations in the Bay of Fonseca for $3,000,000. Chairman Stone of the Foreign Relations Committee, would not predict today when it would be reported.

PETERS AT DESK WEDNESDAY

Confirmation is expected from Senate Today and Newly Appointed Assistant Secretary Will Probably Go to Customs Division.

Representative Andrew J. Peters of Boston, appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, is expected to arrive in Washington Wednesday from his summer home in North Haven, Me., to take up his new duties. Confirmation probably will be voted by the Senate today, as the appointment is warmly commended by the senators. The opinion here is that Mr. Peters will be assigned to the customs desk and that the fiscal division will be placed in charge of Assistant Secretary William P. Mahurin, who has been a banker.

Portsmouth, N. H., Tuesday, August 11, 1914.

The Proper Course.

Eminently proper is the step taken by Mayor Mitchel of New York to prevent public demonstrations in that city of sympathy with any of the warring European nations. As he says, New York is a cosmopolitan city, including in its population representatives of every country on earth, and the representation of many foreign countries is very large. It is easy to understand that if the people of any foreign nation were permitted to march and shout for their native land, carrying its flag at the head of the column, other nationalities would demand the same privilege and be entitled to it, and in a short time New York would have become a miniature reproduction of the European battlefield, with strong liability to clashes and bloodshed.

Therefore Mayor Mitchel has taken exactly the right course and one that will be upheld by all thoughtful citizens, including many who came from countries involved in the war. The mayor recognizes that it is natural that their sympathies should be with the lands from which they came, but reminds all that the United States is a neutral country and that any demonstration for or against any of the warring nations is out of place here.

His example may well be followed in every city in the country, as it doubtless will be wherever demonstrations such as were begun in New York are attempted. From every part of the globe have men come to enjoy the liberty and advantages which our beneficent country offers to all. Most of them who have been here any length of time are American citizens. This fact, however, does not and should not remove their love and regard for the lands from which they came, but it does render improper and dangerous any public taking of sides in the troubles of the Old World. It is the duty of all citizens of the United States, and all who are here and have not yet become citizens, to observe strict neutrality in the present crisis. Their sympathies may be, and it is quite natural that they should be, with the lands that gave them birth, but their acts should be in consonance with the position of a neutral nation.

The accuracy of this view no one can gainsay, consequently Mayor Mitchel's course will be upheld in every part of the country, and it is reasonable to assume that a similar course will be adopted wherever occasion for it may arise.

In spite of all the backing and filling, Paul M. Warburg of New York lands on the federal reserve board, which is now complete and ready for business. At a time like this there is cause for pride and gratification in the country's sound financial condition, and that its banking affairs will be carefully looked after by the new board goes without saying.

It is the consensus of opinion that the war was "made in Germany." The wireless service of this country is to be censored in a way to preserve strict neutrality, as is entirely proper. Uncle Sam can be trusted to keep his hand out of the present trouble in the Old World, and to see that all within his borders do the same.

A New York lawyer has gone to Italy to defend Porter Charlton, an American charged with the murder of his wife in that country. Without doubt the young man has secured able counsel, but it is probable that some of the tricks resorted to in American murder cases will be ruled out, and, if so, that will make a difference.

Fishermen, and other people as well, will be interested in the effort to be made by the federal bureau of fisheries to stock eastern waters with salmon from the Pacific coast. Native salmon are now very scarce in New England waters, and if this experiment succeeds it will mean much to the eastern part of the country.

A gang of Chicago elevated railway station robbers when raided the other day shot two men dead and wounded three others. One of the killed was a policeman, and yet there are those who inveigh against the use of revolvers by officers of the law.

It is claimed that the French have artillery that is automatic in aim, and that the "guns practically find the enemy." If this is so they ought to have good times in setting up their slaughtering machine, falling back to points of safety and watching it work.

Of course, Jack Johnson cannot return from France now to stand trial on the charge of violating the white slave act. Far reaching indeed are the results of war.

A lot of us are very thankful just now that we are not "servants."

Admiral John H. Jellicoe was placed in command of the home fleet of Great Britain at the outbreak of the war with Germany. He is once prepared to crush Germany's navy, if possible. The world awaited with bated breath the expected great conflict in the North Sea. Admiral Jellicoe is shown here in a background of the mighty 13.5 inch guns of the Iron Duke, his flagship.

DAILY SPORT LETTER

New York, Aug. 10.—The season still has about 10 weeks to go, so don't be in too much of a hurry about engaging world series accommodations in New York and Philadelphia. Oh, yes, the pair mentioned have what might be called a fair lead, but this is far from a sure thing. And there's no telling how far it will continue.

The Cubs, if you remember, were figured hopelessly out of the race two months ago. Little for the Red Sox. Then they hit their stride and ever since have been just a few jumps behind the leaders. Both may lack the final wallop—the drive to hurl them over the heads of the present title leaders—but "you never can tell."

Wagner—Here's to you. Your hair is gray, your legs are bent, You're forty-two or so, But when you speed 'er up a bit, Oh, lordy, how you go.

They say your orbs are growing dim, No longer can you hit, Yet, when you amble in the plate, The pitchers have a fit.

You aren't a poem of motion As 'round the field you fill, But drives within a mile of you, Somehow do reach your mitt.

For eleven years and longer They've tried to count you out In all those years you've stood 'em off And put them all to rout.

But some day you must hit the trail That takes you on and down, But when you do, you'll fade from view.

Deflected with fandom's crown, It used to be that the best recommendation for a player was to be named by the Cincinnati Reds. Now it happens to be the Yanks. Bert Daniels is the most recent "come-back"—and he's performing in wonderful style in the Red outfield. The Yanks shoofed him off to the minors last spring. Since his sale by the Baltimore Internationals to the Reds he has been hitting like a streak and fielding brilliantly.

If Joe Birmingham has his way the Naps will have an almost entirely new team when they take the field next year. But if Joe insists upon trailing off Joe Jackson and a few other Naps stars it's quite likely that the Naps won't finish with a much better percentage than they will do this year. House-cleaning is a good thing once in a while, but, when cleaning, it isn't good policy to knock the house down. A little framework ought to be left.

The race for the batting leadership in the American League grows hotter. With Abner and Collins of the Athletics, Cobb of the Tigers, and Jackson of the Naps, pretty well bunched, and with Tris Speaker of the Red Sox, pounding along in their wake, it looks like a toss up as to who will grab the October honors.

AMUSING POET.

Planning Glimpse of the Great French Poet, Theophile Gautier, as a Dinner Companion.

An American girl, Miss Greenough of Cambridge, Mass., who married Mr. Charles Moulton of Paris, and was a resident of that city during the last days of the Empire and the siege of 1870, knew not only the ruling monarchs of several countries, but almost all the important artists and composers of the last half-century. In her book, "In the Courts of Memory," she describes her visit to Napoleon III and the Empress at Compiègne, and her dismay on being told that the famous poet, Theophile Gautier, was to be her dinner companion. Fortunately, however she found him a most amusing and delightful companion.

I was awed at the idea of such a neighbor, and feared I should not be able to rise to the occasion. Would he talk poetry to me? And should I have to talk poetry to him? I tried to remember, during our promenade down the hall, Longfellow's Psalm of Life, in case he should expect anything of this kind, and I tried to remember something he, himself, had written, but for the life of me I could think of nothing.

I might have spared myself this worry, for from the time he sat down at the table he talked of little else than cats and dogs. He loves all animals. I liked him for that, and I could see that he preferred them to any other topic of conversation.

"He said he had eight or ten cats who ate with him at the table; each had its own place and plate, and never by any chance made a mistake and sat in another cat's place or ate off another cat's plate." He was sure that cats had a Heaven and Hell of their own. All his cats had classical names, and he talked to them as if they were human beings. He said they understood every word he said. He also quoted some of his conversation with them, which must have sounded very funny:

"Cleopatra, have you been in the kitchen drinking milk on the sly?"

"Cleopatra puts her tail between her legs and her ears back, and looks most gully; and I know then that what the cook told me was true."

"Then again, 'Julius Caesar, you were out extremely late last night. What were you doing?' He said that in these reproaches Julius Caesar would get down from his chair, and, with his tail high in the air, would rub himself against his master's legs, as much as to say he would never do it again."

"Depend upon it," M. Gautier added, "they know everything we know, and Gautier's fun and amusing talk lasted until we were back in the salon.—Youth's Companion.

CURRENT OPINION

Women Can Get Ballot Quicker Through the States Than Through Congress.

Woman suffrage is as inevitable as the rising of tomorrow's sun. For six thousand years men have been trying to run the world, and some people think we have made a bad mess of it. If you women run it I hope you will improve over us.

You are going at this thing in the right way. The first article of the United States Constitution provides that every one shall have the right to petition Congress or the government. I hope that you will continue in the peaceable methods you are now using.

The only question for you folks to consider is how you can expeditiously get what you want because I think you are going to get it. My own judgment is that you can get it quicker through the states than through Congress. At the rate you are going now it looks to me as if you might get it in three, four or five years.

My own position, and I might as well make that clear to you now, because I have got to do it some time, is that I think women should vote. Whenever it is submitted in Missouri I am going to vote for it. When you do get the vote I hope that you will vote for the best principles and the best men.—Champ Clark in Address to Suffragists.

STATION OFFICER OBSERVERS

Americans Now in Europe for Most Part Will Act for the United States

Washington, Aug. 10.—(These American army officers will be in the field in a few days as military observers with the European armies now in conflict.

Major Spencer Cosby, Corps of Engineers, with the French army; Major George O. Squier, Signal Corps, with the British expeditionary force; Captain Allen L. Briggs, Twenty-Sixth Infantry, with the Austrian army; Major Edgar T. Langhorne, Fifth Cavalry, with the German army; First Lieutenant Sherman Miles, Field Artillery, with the Serbian army. It is possible that Major Edward P. Dawson, United States army, retired, now at Berne, Switzerland, will join one or the other of the opposing armies.

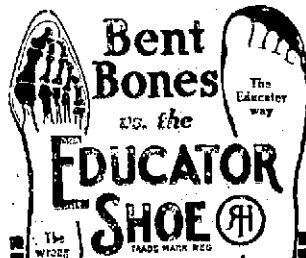

Surprise has been expressed abroad that American army officers had not been detailed for service as observers with the European armies. The officers named are now stationed in Europe at different capitals as military attaches. They do not have to wait for orders, but on permission from authorities of the different European countries can start into the field at once.

Several American army officers went abroad on the Tennessee which carried the relief money. They may be ordered to join the military attaches who are about to go to the battlefield of Europe.

INNOCENT BOY IS EXILED

Case of Theft Cleared by Arrest of Another Boy at York.

Elvardo Plant, an Italian formerly employed at the York Harbor Brick Co., is now virtually an exile in Italy, accused of theft, as the result of a theft by a boy arrested by the York police. When the boy was searched the gold watch for which Plant had been called a thief, was found upon him. A letter is now speeding to Italy containing the welcome information of the clearing of his name from the stain which it has borne during the month he has been gone.

The police there were given a search warrant to hunt for a gold watch, revolver and box of cartridges, suspected of having been stolen by Peppo Colina, a fifteen year old Italian boy. When the police arrived at the yard, Peppo was not to be found, but after a short search, he was discovered hiding behind a wood pile. At first he denied all knowledge of knowing anything about the stolen property, but under fire of questions, he finally admitted that he had them.

The revolver and box of cartridges were found at his home, but the watch was found in the rear of the Counceman grounds, hidden away in a rabbit hole. The boy was taken to the lock-up, and when searched a lady's gold watch was found in one of his pockets. He claimed it was his. The police were already in possession of the information that Mrs. Dube was missing a watch, and when they asked her to identify it, she had no trouble in doing so.

It seems that the watch was first pawned, Plant loaning the money and taking the watch as security. Later, when the watch was to have been redeemed, Plant was unable to find it. He searched for a week, but without result. As he was already preparing to go back to his country, there began mutterings against him, and he was finally accused of stealing the watch. Unable to clear himself, he did the next best thing, paid for the watch. Then he sailed away, while those behind were uncertain whether or not Plant really did take the watch. Developments here proved his innocence. As for Peppo, he has been in the hands of the police once before. Last summer, Superintendent Wilson complained that someone was stealing golf clubs, and the police finally went in Peppo's house and accused him. He denied any knowledge of the clubs, but when cross questioned by the interpreter, aided by a little third degree, he broke down and confessed, and the clubs were recovered. There was no prosecution, as it was believed that the Italian had merely wanted the clubs to play with.

Peppo has been brought before Judge Spillney who, after hearing the evidence, talking with the father, and explaining the situation, decided that a state school was about the right place for Peppo, and accordingly sent him there for a period covering the rest of his minority, unless Peppo is a good boy, in which case he will return to York soon.

POLICE NEWS

The summer season has been a busy one in the police department and a variety of offenders have appeared in the district court.

During last week 51 arrests were made.

On Monday and Monday night 18 were booked for one crime and another, which shows the start made on the present week is a good one and the record is likely to exceed that of the previous week.

Three of the Sunday crap shooters who appeared in the juvenile court on Monday afternoon were placed on probation.

A half dozen arrests picked up by the police this forenoon were decidedly musical and the several departments at City Hall were treated to light opera with the diaphan accompaniment during the day.

Thomas Durand, who was injured in the Boston and Maine railroad yard on Monday night by falling from the Portland express, was sent to the county farm for 30 days on a charge of stealing a ride. The railroad had a representative in the court today and it is understood that this policy will be carried out in every case in the future when offenders against the road are to be put before the court.

The company will prosecute the tramp fraternity in every town and city for stealing rides and it is likely there will always be a full house in the jails, etc.

Three Demi-Tasses.

"Some of these sea captains are as inefficient in a fog as the three mill hands were in the table d'hôte."

"The speaker was Dr. Elliott M. Duncan, the marine insurance expert of San Francisco. He went on:

"Three mill hands and their wives went down to Atlantic City for over Sunday. The three men started out alone on Sunday morning. They had a dip, they got weighed, and, for a grand windup they hunked at a board-walk restaurant. They had the 50-cent table d'hôte luncheon.

"The hors d'oeuvres, the nut-crackers, etc., bothered the three mill hands, but they pegged away at their seven-course table d'hôte bravely. After the withered fruit and moldy cheese, their waiter said, as they lit up their cigars: "And now gents, would you like three demi-tasses?"

"Holy smoke, no!" the leading mill hand answered. "Our wives might happen along and see us settin' with them."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE OPPOSING ALLIANCES

Interesting Facts Concerning the Warring Nations of Europe.

By Herbert Temple, European manager of the International News Service.

London, Aug. 11.—Since the inception of the stupendous war now raging in Europe, much is heard of the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente. These two coalitions were formed ostensibly for defensive purposes and the two include all of the important nations of Europe, the six great powers.

What they are:

Triple Alliance—Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy. This alliance was first a dual alliance between Germany and Austria, formed in 1879 after the Franco-Prussian War, as a defense against the encroachments of the encroachments of the French and Russians. Bismarck, the great German chancellor was the prime mover in the alliance and he had visions of a "Dreikaiserbund"—an alliance of Germany, Austria and Russia, which never materialized. In 1883 Italy entered the Triple Alliance. The pact was amplified in 1887 and renewed in 1902 and 1907. Its last period of expiration was June 14, 1914, but at that time the alliance was renewed for twelve years.

Triple Entente—England, France and Russia. This coalition had its beginning in 1895 when France and Russia laid the foundation of a dual alliance which was perfected in 1897. In 1904 Great Britain formed an entente cordiale with France and in 1907 made a similar arrangement with Russia. The "interlocking" agreements among the three nations resulted in the Triple Entente.

Diplomats are now wondering if the Triple Alliance is in progress of disintegration since the beginning of the big war. Italy, one of the signatories, has so far maintained strict neutrality in the face of prayers, pleadings and threats from the Kaiser. More than that, Italy has indicated she would probably throw in her lot with the Triple Entente if she were forced into the war. The apparent defection of Italy, while at no time officially declared, apparently reduces the Triple Alliance to a Dual Alliance.

When Germany called upon Austria to aid her in attacking the allied fleets of France and England in the Mediterranean, Austria refused to comply. "We are not at war with England," was Austria's answer to Germany, making diplomats wonder if the Triple Alliance was in danger of dwindling down to the War Lord alone.

The articles of agreement on which rest both the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente lay great stress on the assertion they are for defense only. For instance, Germany is pledged to assist Austria-Hungary against Russia, only in the event that Russia is the aggressor. England is under obligation to help France against Germany only when Germany started the trouble.

That is the explanation of the apparent anxiety of each of the warring nations to "pass the buck" and get out from under the onus of beginning the war. The Kaiser declared that Germany was forced into the war by the aggressions of France and Russia. France on the other hand strenuously asserted that the Germans were responsible. If Germany could have made it appear that France and Russia were acting on the offensive, there was hope that England might hold that the Triple Entente had not been violated and accordingly have remained neutral.

For this reason also, both France and Germany committed acts of war before declaring war. German and French troops were rushed to the frontier and in some instances crossed it before the formal declarations came. The same is true of Russia. Each nation strove vigorously to provoke the others to declare war first, so that the technical responsibility might rest upon them. But finally the Kaiser's patience was tried to its limit and Germany declared war on France and Russia. Both those nations reciprocated immediately. With Germany apparently the aggressor, England had no recourse but to get into the war or repudiate the Triple Entente.

W. E. PAUL, Agt. 87 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH

NATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO WIFE OF PRESIDENT

Washington, Aug. 10.—The nation today paid its final tribute to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

Details of the funeral services in the East room of the White House at 2 o'clock this afternoon were marked by simplicity, such as Mrs. Wilson desired.

Only members of the Wilson family and a very few intimate members of the cabinet and their wives, committee members from the senate and house and the employees of the White House were asked to be present. Those invited made a group of less than 200 persons.

The mahogany casket covered with heavy broadcloth was taken from the room in which Mrs. Wilson died to the East room and there surrounded by a profusion of beautiful flowers sent from all parts of the country.

With the President and his daughters, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre were Secretary McAdoo, Francis H. Sayre and Prof. Stockton Asson, Mrs. Wilson's brother, who arrived here early today from Oregon.

There was no music at the services, and Rev. Sylvester Beach of Princeton, N. J., the Wilson family pastor, for many years, and Rev. J. H. Taylor of Washington, whose church the President attended since coming to Washington officiated, had only the simplest form of service.

The members of the senate committee, headed by Vice President Marshall, gathered in the Marble room of the capitol to drive to the White House, together with Speaker Clark and other members of the house committee, which included the senior member of each state delegation, and also at the capitol to attend the funeral in a body.

There were no honorary pallbearers. A group of White House attendants who have been on duty there for many years were honored by being chosen to bear the casket.

Both house of congress were in recess until tomorrow and orders had been issued that all government departments be closed at 1 o'clock today and tomorrow afternoon. All flags in the city on public buildings and private homes and stores were at half-mast.

The trip to Rome, Ga., where Mrs. Wilson will be buried late Tuesday afternoon beside her mother and father in Myrtle Hill cemetery was made on a special train. The South has planned to pay tribute to Mrs. Wilson's life as the special train passes towards Rome, in Alexandria, Va., and many other cities and towns, the church bells will be tolled.

A special car on the train took the thousands of wreaths and floral tributes which had come to the White House since Mrs. Wilson died.

The President and his three daughters followed Mrs. Wilson's body to the special train and then returned to the White House to await the time for departure some two hours later. Joseph H. Wilson, the president's brother and George Howe, the president's cousin, remained meanwhile on the funeral car.

Since Mrs. Wilson's death the president or some other members of the family have been constantly in the room with her body. The president took personal charge today a final arrangements for the funeral.

Six police officers who have been on duty at the White House for many years were selected to bear the casket to the hearse. They were Forest B. Purks, John F. Jamieson, H. F. Hutton, John Bramlett, Eugene Davis and Henry Gilbert.

Among the mourners at the White House was Mr. Charles Loeffler, who for 44 years was doorman for successive presidents. He was among the pallbearers at the funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, who died in the White House.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN SWITZERLAND

Washington, Aug. 10.—Charge Huescher of the Swiss Legation notified the State Department that martial law had been declared in Switzerland. The Charge is busy moving his Nationalities in this country, automatically recalled for defense by the declaration of siege.

Both French and German troops are menacing the integrity of Switzerland with their operations in the vicinity of Basel, which lies close to Muelhausen, reported captured by the French. Declaration of the state of siege, in Mr. Huescher's opinion, would not affect the safety or comfort of Americans in Switzerland.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Sen. Bryan announced today that he had received acknowledgment of President Wilson's tender of good offices from Austria-Hungary, France, Great Britain and Russia.

The State Department also communicated directly to Ambassador Gerard, and Ambassador Herrick sent a second message to Berlin through the American Embassy at Rome.

The State Department has been informed that Sweden's attitude will be neutral. Officials are not yet advised whether the offer of mediation has been held before Emperor Nicholas personally, but it is known to have reached the Russian Foreign Office. Neither is it known whether the offer has reached the German foreign office.

CONGENIAL WORK

And Strength to Perform It

A person in good health is likely to have a genial disposition, ambition, and enjoy work.

On the other hand, if the digestive organs have been upset by wrong food, work becomes drudgery.

"Until recently," writes a Washington girl, "I was a railroad stenographer, which means full work every day."

"Like many other girls alone in a large city, I lived at a boarding house. For breakfast I was wretched, greasy meat, soggy cakes, black coffee, etc."

"After a few months of this diet I used to feel sleepy and heavy in the morning. My work seemed a terrible effort, and I thought the work was to blame—too arduous."

"At home I had heard my father speak of a young fellow who went long distances in the cold on Grape-Nuts and cream and nothing more for breakfast."

"I concluded if it would tide him over a morning's heavy work, it might help me, so on my way home one night I bought a package and next morning I had Grape-Nuts and milk for breakfast."

"I stuck to Grape-Nuts, and in less than two weeks I noticed improvement. I remember I used to walk the 12 blocks to business and knew how good it was simply to live."

"As to my work—well, did you ever feel the delight of having congenial work and the strength to perform it? That's what I felt. I truly believe that life and vigor in every grain of Grape-Nuts."

THE COST OF THE WAR WOULD BE APPALLING

New York, Aug. 10.—The New York World prints today a special story by Alexander Wemyss Samuel, in part as follows:

The Six Powers War, as history probably will call it, will prove by far the costliest as well as the bloodiest in modern times.

For today the engines of war, alike in their price and destructibility, outrange to an incredible degree any that have ever been employed previously.

Guns that have an accurate range of nearly 10 miles, shells that can hit more than 10,000 times their own weight, bomb-dropping aeroplanes that can hover directly over fortifications impregnable to direct attack, submarines that may prove more deadly even than superdreadnoughts, and all these controlled by powers aggregating in population more than 500,000,000 people whose sheaves of wealth are in billions almost beyond computation, there indeed is the world climax, the stage set for the vast pageant of death.

The war will be on land and sea and it is quite conceivable that the Triple Alliance may secure victory at sea to be deprived of its fruits by diseased on land.

The destructiveness of the present engines of war is so great that the sea fighting could not be prolonged through what at the time of the Armada were called "spacious days." But in view of the strength in population and resources of the Continent of Europe, the land fighting might continue for a very long time; and most paradoxical of all might result in a chess player's stalemate.

But if one of the great triumvirate should appear to win a decided victory it would be at a cost similar to that of a man who, to save his life, submits to an operation and loses his legs. For it will be a lamed and maimed Europe that will present itself again upon the world's commercial highways after the war.

Lamed financially and maimed physically, the Europe of 12 months from now will have to be remanned and remade. Not the least probable result would be the overthrow of thrones and the establishment of republicanism.

War Will Cost Billions

In the South African War Great Britain put 250,000 men into the field. That was the largest number she had operating at any given time, although she used altogether nearly 400,000. The cost of that campaign, which was on land only, was $1,250,000,000. That works out at about $5,000,000 per 1000 men. In the Six-Power war, to which Japan might be added, probable Russia, who can add 1,000,000 men, and Greece, who has already offered 100,000 troops, there would be forces on land and sea totaling up to 20,000,000. If the South African average be taken that would represent $100,000,000,000.

Divide that figure by half and it is still too stupendous to be comprehended.

Ships of the dreadnought type cost approximately $12,000,000 each. Great Britain possesses about 33 completed vessels of this type Germany about 18, France 12, Italy four, Austria three, Russia six and the figures being a little uncertain as to those actually completed. But those figures, totaling 73, are very near, and would represent $876,000,000. Probably the total in dreadnoughts and their ammunition alone would prove considerably over the billion mark.

Then there are the older first-class battleships, first class, second and third-class cruisers and destroyers in hundreds which, added to the submarines, would easily total a billion dollars more. So that the grand armada of the six Powers would represent about two billion dollars in capital expenditure as it rode into battle.

About 2,000,000 Men May Die

The estimate of lives probably to be lost or maimed in numbers, not in value, for that is not a consideration in the devil's game of war, is interesting. Despite the few really large engagements of troops in the South African War, nearly 25,000 lives were lost by wounds or disease, or 10 percent of those put in the field. Here there would be great engagements with shells that have indefinitely multiplied their destructiveness and bullets that rain as never a hailstorm so furious. Shall we reckon a less percentage?

Probably the percentage should be multiplied by three, but keeping it at 10 percent as in South Africa, that would mean nearly 2,000,000 men would be destroyed. The unit of the family in Europe being five, there would be fully ten millions directly bereaved of husbands and fathers. Then calculate the cost to industry all the world over, of the total army taken from its activities, and all those who never will return.

Soiron near Poperinghe in the Province of Flanders, had been fired on by three workmen, the village was given over to pillage by the German troops and the three workmen were taken out and shot by a firing squad.

GERMANY TIES UP JAPAN'S SHIPPING

Tokio, Aug. 10.—The German fleet at Tsingtau had already seized the Russian steamship Razan, carrying British subjects, has driven a hundred merchantmen to the refuge of Japanese ports and has embarrassed the entire Japanese shipping in the Orient.

The press gives prominence to an alleged communication from America, saying the United States is sending a fleet to Asia to protect its interests.

Forty missionaries, chiefly French, but some of them German, are leaving for their home countries, to take their places in their armies.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You—Drink Lots of Water

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Miss Florence Griffin, who has been visiting at Kittery, has returned to her home in Manchester.

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Are Appreciated By Portsmouth People

Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one kidney medicine that has earned a reputation for lasting results and there is plenty of proof of its merit right here in Portsmouth.

Here is the testimony of one who used Doan's Kidney Pills years ago, and now makes his testimony even stronger.

Mrs. Arthur M. Morrison, 30 Gate St., Portsmouth, says: "I had pains in my back and sides. My kidneys were weak and often I had nervous and dizzy spells. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and used some. It wasn't long before they completely cured me. The cure has been permanent. You may continue publishing the endorsement. I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before."

Price 50c at all dealers. Do not simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Morrison had. Foster-McIlburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BELGIANS STILL HOLD FORTS ABOUT LIEGE

Brussels, via Paris, Aug. 10, 6.15 a. m.—The Belgian General Staff today says the situation in regard to the Germans has modified but little since Saturday.

However, the German forces are said to be going backward before the irresistible advance of the French troops, of which a considerable force has got into contact with the German advance guard.

It is reported that the entire territory to the south of the Meuse has been cleared of German soldiers.

The French and Belgian Armies will take the offensive simultaneously, in conformity with a concerted plan of campaign.

The Emperor of Russia had addressed to King Albert a telegram expressing sincere admiration of the bravery of the Belgian Army and the best wishes for Belgium in its contest for independence.

After the German troops reached Waregem, in the province of Liege, according to people who saw their arrival, they assembled all the inhabitants and chose 14 from among them.

Of these eight are said to have been shot and two hanged. The Mayor himself was arrested, but afterward was liberated by the German officers, who had been his guests the day before.

Other instances of alleged outrages by German soldiers are related in the Belgian Governmental press.

BELGIUM DESTROYS BRIDGES AND TUNNELS TO GERMANY

London, Aug. 10, 1 p. m.—Messages received today in official quarters in London from the Belgian general staff assert that the occupation of the town of Liege by the German troops has not had the slightest influence on the strategic situation.

It is declared that so long as the ring of forts around Liege remains intact, as it still is, the guns command three of the principal roads by which the German Army can advance. This, it is pointed out, makes it impossible for the Germans under the present circumstances to receive supplies of ammunition.

Every line of railroad between Liege and the German frontier is alleged to have been destroyed, and the Belgian troops are said to have blown up every bridge culvert and tunnel.

The Belgian general staff declared that it has received information that the Germans, expecting to take Liege in a few hours, brought with them only sufficient food for a few days and little ammunition, their plan being to rush Liege and make it their base of operations.

The same authority denies the German assertion of the capture of 1000 Belgian prisoners and adds that not a single Belgian soldier remains in the town of Liege as they are all quartered in the forts.

As far as can be learned by the Belgian general staff some 120,000 German troops were engaged at Liege and they are said to have been so weakened as to be unable effectively to attack the forts. On the other hand, it is argued, that it is not possible for the forts to concentrate their fire on the town of Liege itself.

The next development in the situation at Liege is expected to be the arrival of the Belgian Main Army, reported to be advancing rapidly from Louvain, in the northwest, to attack

Weeks Bill Up Today

Senator John W. Weeks' bill for the creation of navy mail steamship lines will be taken up by the House Committee on Naval Affairs today. The bill has passed the Senate and is now awaiting action by the House. Several of the members of the House committee have expressed their opposition to the bill, saying that they fear the experiment of plunging the navy into matters having to do with commercial intercourse would be hazardous. Representative Lemuel I. Padgett of Tennessee, chairman of the committee, is out of the city and it is doubtful if any action will be taken immediately.

BUSY DAY FOR LEARY.

Pulls Off Some All Around
Freaking in the North End.

James Leary, who claims to be a native of Rhode Island, gave an exhibition of all around freaking on Deer street on Monday afternoon. The visitor from Little Rhody was sure a star and if correctly reported, he has something on the freaks that land here now and then from the state across the river. Leary had a lot of speed water under his belt and his first stunt was some fancy diving with his clothes on off one of the North end wharves. The plunge in the cool waters of the Piscataqua made him feel like a six-year-old, and he continued the entertainment on the

Monday and Tuesday. Eight reels of specially selected subjects.

"A Frontier Mother," two reel Branch western drama. A thrilling episode of Indian warfare in the days when the Indians were a terror to the settlers of our western frontier, showing the strategy of a little boy whose mother had been captured.

"Through the Eyes of the Blind,"
two reel Imp drama, with Walter Miller and Frank Crane. A blind artist enters a strange house and discovers a murder. After escaping, he is unable to direct the police to the house. Later, his eyesight about to be restored, he sacrifices himself to save his sweetheart and bring a murderer to justice.

"Whom God Hath Joined," two reel Belair western drama, with J. W. Johnson and Edna Payne. The story follows a big-hearted man, foreman of a ranch, who was in love with his employer's daughter. After she had married a man from the east, the big foreman became compromised unjustly in a theft. He cleared himself and later gave his life for the girl in a fight.

"The Other Train," American Beauty
drama. A once famous actress, now old and her beauty gone, is on her way to the poor house. In a day dream, while waiting for the train, her whole life passes before her.

"The Sky Pirate," Keystone comedy.
"Fido is a Hot Dog Now," Leo Feist; and "When You Play in the Game of Love," Leo Feist, sung by Miss Margaret Pearson.

"Lullaby Love," series No. 5, two reels; "Arms and the Gringos" two reel Majestic drama, and "Beneath the Mask," two reel Imp drama. Coming Wednesday.

"The Perils of Pauline," two reels.
Coming Friday.

street. His next act was shooting the chute and he gave his attention to one of the loaded coal wagons of the Consolidation Coal Company. Without consulting Delver Cousins he grabbed the iron chute from the delivery wagon and gave it an inchoat toward the sidewalk. Before the driver could get a strangle hold on Leary, he was on another job and busy ripping off the seat awning of the fruit wagon of Arthur Dedes.

There were no more wagons in sight that needed his attention and he skipped up the line for the depot. Or-ficer Schreider gave James a game of tag and bagged him in the dragnet at the corner of Vaughan street. He had some fight left and started to give the cop a battle. It was no use and he took a walk up over Bow street hill to the den to rest after a most strenuous tour of the North End.

couples will attend, members and friends. Arrangements have been made special trip Thursday evening, leaving this city at 7 p. m. The Oceanic Hotel orchestra will furnish music on the city, where she formerly lived, returned to her home today.

HOME AGAIN

The two local firemen, Messrs. Robert Palfrey and Joseph Gorman, returned home yesterday from their Halifax trip. They report a very pleasant time. While in Halifax everything possible was done for their comfort and entertainment. They declare the torchlight parade in the Halifax celebration the finest they have ever seen. It was over three hours long and witnessed by a large crowd of people.

They also report that everyone in Halifax seems to have the war fever.
Crowds stay around the bulletin boards all night waiting for the latest news. A great number of men have enlisted, including many young boys, after they have read the war news from the bulletins.

The other two members of the party who took the Halifax trip, Messrs.
Maby and Wallace, haven't returned yet but are expected sometime this week.
